Module 6: “You--Competencies for Success”

This module is one of six total modules included in the case-based, introductory business course entitled “Business Thought & Action™”, created by former Dean Robert Dolan and Professors Robert Kennedy and Scott Moore of the Ross School of Business at the University of Michigan. While modules can be adopted individually or in groups, it should be noted they were originally designed to be taught sequentially and as part of the entire course.

Note regarding Module 6: There are currently no GlobaLens materials included in this module. To access and purchase the non-GlobaLens materials, visit the individual publisher’s website or a teaching materials aggregator such as AcademicPub.com.
The William Davidson Institute’s (WDI) Research Associates collaborate with faculty from Michigan’s Ross School of Business to produce teaching materials for top business schools. WDI is a nonprofit, independent, research and educational institute that creates, aggregates, and disseminates intellectual capital on global business and policy issues.

www.wdi.umich.edu

GlobaLens™ is the online resource for business educators in need of material and teaching ideas on today’s most relevant global issues, such as Social Impact, Social Enterprise, Base of the Pyramid, and Environmental Sustainability.

More than just a case repository, GlobaLens™ features in-depth background materials for instruction, a searchable library of syllabi for developing business courses, community, and publishing support, as well as case studies, exercises and other teaching materials.

www.globalens.com